Dear Parents and Carers,

As we reach the end of our 7th week of online learning the end is in sight and we are looking forward to welcoming all children back on Monday 8th March. I'm sure that some of you have reservations about children returning to school however please be assured that we will do everything we can to make the transition back as safe and smooth as we can.

We will only be able to do this if we all work together and next week I will be sending out an updated 'Return to School Handbook'. It is essential that you read the handbook and talk to your children about some of the key information – Mrs Stanczyk and myself will also be talking to children about the return during our assemblies next week. While some things will remain the same as they were in the Autumn term, there have been some changes, particularly regarding drop off and pick up, which will now be staggered. While some of these changes may be frustrating at first, I'm sure, as last time, we will all adapt and do our best to follow the procedures to help to protect the whole school community.

We will also send out information next week on returning any devices that you may have borrowed from us during lockdown so please do make sure that you keep your eyes peeled for any Parent Mails coming out next week as they will contain important information.

All parents will need to have signed up to use Plus Pay for any payments to school as we will not be accepting cash. Please contact the office if you require any help with this.

Teachers will be offline next Wednesday afternoon (although work will still be set) in order to have some time in school to prepare classrooms for the children's return.

Thank you all so very much for your continued support.

Best wishes,

Sue Slack
